Ann Williams races to win a seat in the General Assembly

11/17/09 — Ann Williams is excited to announce some recent milestones in her campaign to be your next State Representative for the 11th District.

First up: Ann is officially on the ballot, having submitted more than 1,700 petition signatures to the State Board of Elections by the November 2 filing deadline. The hard-working volunteers who spent many hours collecting signatures and generating support for her campaign are to be commended for a job well done!

In other big news, Ann's campaign office is open for business at 3359 N. Lincoln, at the intersection of Lincoln, Paulina, and Roscoe. It's a great location, near many of our community's favorite shops and restaurants. Please stop by when you're in the neighborhood — enjoy a cup of coffee and spend some time talking with Ann and her volunteer staff. Ann is in this race because she wants to represent your interests in Springfield — so she urges you to share with her your views on the issues that matter most to you and the people you care about.

As campaign season shifts into full gear, Ann is busy going door to door in the 11th District's many vibrant neighborhoods, listening to what residents have to say about state government. Many of you have graciously invited Ann into your homes, and the message you've communicated to her is clear you want property tax relief and you're fed up with business as usual in Springfield. You want your elected officials to be answerable solely to you — the people — rather than to entrenched special interests.

If elected as your next State Representative, Ann Williams will fight to push the business of state government out of the back rooms and into full view of the people where it belongs. Ann has both the independence and the experience to get the job done. As a former Assistant Attorney General, she has a proven track record of fighting for the people — for victims of domestic violence, distressed homeowners, utility customers — often in the face of fierce opposition from powerful special interests. She will work tirelessly to build on that track record once she gets to Springfield, but first she needs your help getting there.

To learn more about Ann's position on important issues and what you can do to support her campaign, please visit her website at www.annwilliams2010.com, stop by her campaign office at 3359 N. Lincoln, or call (773) 539-3234.

Ann looks forward to hearing from you!
